

FAQ for HOME CONTENT INSURANCE

1- Why should I buy Home Insurance?

Whether you own or rent, Home insurance is always advised so that your assets are protected. A comprehensive Home insurance policy offers invaluable protection against a whole host of perils such as fire, flood, storm and even theft and accidental damage.

In many cases where you have a mortgage or any form of secured lending linked to the property, the bank or company providing the finance usually requires proof of suitable and adequate insurance.

2- Who is eligible to buy Home Insurance?

If you're a homeowner or tenant, you're eligible to buy a Home insurance policy that covers contents as well as other coverages like personal possessions and property owner's liability.

3- Am I still covered if I'm away on business or take a vacation?

Home insurance policy has restrictions for unoccupancy meaning that if you are not resident in the property for a specified period of time, your policy coverage becomes inoperative. Typical policy periods range is 30 days onward.

4- I have had an incident that has damaged my home and I can't live there at the moment. Will my policy help towards the costs of alternative accommodation?

Most policies have an extension for temporary alternative accommodation costs following an
